What is AAPI Data?
Main Takeaways

Growing Importance of Asian Americans

But, there is a big gap in leadership and civic engagement

Integrated Voter Engagement Means…

Organizing

Coalition Building

So What’s The Problem?
Problem #1: Model Minority Myth

- People assume that our community doesn’t need help or support

- Data disaggregation is vital
  - Without data, we cannot make our case

Lessons on Data Disaggregation

- We have to continually engage and educate
  - Internally
  - Externally

- We have to fight
  - We need learn from others
Lessons on Data Disaggregation

Judge Mike Kwan (UT): “Truth is the greatest casualty of the current times. Don't like the facts? Just call them fake and ignore them. Don't like the messenger? Call them stupid liars.

The simple truth that every community advocate who has ever sought funding for the community knows is that DATA = DOLLARS.

If you cannot demonstrate through data that a particular group is in need of assistance, they won't get any.”
Problem #2: Low Civic Engagement

Consequences

- Our economic contributions not recognized
- Perpetual foreigner
- Leadership and talent hit “bamboo ceiling”
Making Economic Contributions

Low Participation Means Less Influence, Less Respect
The AAPI community is the fastest-growing minority in America, but it’s still -- (applause) -- well, that's good to cheer about, but it's still significantly underrepresented at the ballot box.

In 2012, just 56 percent of eligible AAPI voters were registered to vote.

How Do We Improve Coalition Possibilities?
Part of It is Tactical

- Get on radar screens
  - State Voices
  - Strategic investment in state tables, issue-specific tables

- Voting is important, but need to go beyond voting
  - Campaign contributions
  - Attending public hearings
  - Volunteering, public service
Many Areas of Convergence

- Presidential voting (exit polls)
- Universal health care (NAAS 2008, 2012)
- Preserving social safety net (Pew, NAAS 2012)
- Support higher taxation (NAAS 2012)
- Support pathway to citizenship (NAAS 2012*)
- Support affirmative action (NAAS12, Field14, APIAVote/AAJC14)
Growth of Eligible Voters

- Nevada, 14%
- Washington, 11%
- New Jersey, 10%
- Maryland, 7%
- Virginia, 7%
- Oregon, 6%
- Minnesota, 5%

Share of Eligible Voters
Focus on our civic responsibility

- AAPIs get 1% of philanthropy dollars
- But, we need to step in giving, too

Asian Americans 32% of pop in SF and SM counties
28% of those with incomes > $100,000
2.7% of major donors; about 1% of giving
Focus on our civic responsibility

- We need to step up in giving, too
  - Charitable giving (56% for AA vs. 70% for whites)
  - Outreach by mainstream philanthropy would help
  - But we need to motivate, hold ourselves accountable

- Culture and values
  - How do parents define success?
  - Discussion of politics in household

- Youth

- Learn from groups that are well organized

The Power of Coalitions
Democracy is not a spectator sport
Ultimately, our job is not just to fight for our own rights, but to fight for the rights of all people, everywhere…

And that means we have to be well-informed, we have to engage with our government, and we have to vote -- not just when it’s time to elect a president, every single election. School boards matter. County offices matter. State attorneys races matter. State legislative races matter.
Thank You!
